

BETTER DIGITAL PHOTOGRAPHY

FOR TODAY'S REPORTERS

A hands-on photography/image-editing workshop designed for journalists.

THURS., APRIL 15TH

10:00 a.m.-4:00 p.m.

FRANCIS TUTTLE RENO CAMPUS

7301 West Reno Ave., Oklahoma City, OK 73127

REGISTRATION: $35 PER PERSON

BE SURE TO BRING YOUR CAMERA to this workshop designed for journalists. No ivory tower stuff; this is better photography for reporters working in the trenches of today's newspapers. This fast moving, multi-topic workshop will address not only the technical side of digital photography but also the aesthetic, story-telling side of photography.

TOPICS WILL INCLUDE:

- Better natural light photography
- The five minute photo session
- How, when and why you should (or shouldn't) use RAW files
- Stuff you didn't know was in your digital camera's menus
- What all those buttons and icons on your camera mean
- How to talk to your subjects
- How to shoot sports inside and outside
- How to salvage bad photography
- Photoshop
- Getting better black-and-white tonality from digital images
- Question & Answer Period

ABOUT THE SPEAKER

Douglas Henderson is a commercial photographer and graphic designer. His photography has appeared on Dateline, been published in the New York Times, Newsweek, Newsweek Japan, Oklahoma Today, The National Enquirer, the National Examiner and other publications. He has worked all over the USA, in South Africa, Ghana, Ivory Coast, the Amazon jungle, the Galapagos Archipelago and the Yucatan Peninsula.

As a graphic designer Henderson has created posters, book covers, corporate logos, websites and more. A Photoshop wizard, his posters hang in several museums. He is an Adobe Certified Expert in Photoshop.

As a result of Henderson's expertise in Photoshop and photography he is in demand as a teacher and speaker on these topics. He is the author of Photoshop Now and Digital Photography Now and several other textbooks used in schools and tech centers across the USA.
